

Post Traumatic Stress Disorder
Diagnosis, Management, and Treatment
Second edition

Edited by

David J Nutt, Murray B Stein, and Joseph Zohar

ISBN: 9780415395717

CONTENTS

- Foreword: Simon Wessely
- Chapter 1: Post-traumatic stress disorder: diagnosis, history and longitudinal course
Arieh Y Shalev
- Chapter 2: Epidemiology of traumatic events and post-traumatic stress disorder
Tracie O Afifi, Gordon JG Asmundson and Jitender Sareen
- Chapter 3: Diagnostic dilemmas in assessing post-traumatic stress disorder
Berthold PR Gersons and Miranda Olf
- Chapter 4: Neuroimaging and post-traumatic stress disorder
Sarah N Garfinkel and Israel Liberzon
- Chapter 5: Neuroendocrinology
Richard Hauger, Vickie Risbrough and Frank Dautzenberg
- Chapter 6: Brain circuits in post-traumatic stress disorder
Eric Vermetten and Ruth Lanius
- Chapter 7: The genetics of post-traumatic stress disorder
Eduard Maron and Jakov Shlik
- Chapter 8: Setting apart the affected: a novel animal model for post-traumatic stress disorder and its translational perspective
Joseph Zohar, Michael Matar and Hagit Cohen
- Chapter 9: Psychological treatments of post traumatic stress disorder
Kerry J Ressler and Barbara O Rothbaum
- Chapter 10: Pharmacotherapy of post-traumatic stress disorder
Lakshmi N Ravindran and Murray B Stein

- Chapter 11: Early interventions following traumatic events
Jonathan I Bisson, Arieh Y Shalev and Joseph Zohar
- Chapter 12: Traumatic stress disorders in children
Soraya Seedat
- Chapter 13: Ethnocultural issues
Alexander McFarlane and Devon Hinton
- Chapter 14: Post-traumatic stress disorder after disasters
Andrea R Maxwell and Sandro Galea
- Chapter 15: Post-traumatic stress disorder – future prospects and needs (including ‘primum non nocere’ and PTSD – what we should and should not do in the aftermath of psychological trauma)
David J Nutt, Murray B Stein and Joseph Zohar
- Chapter 16: Use and abuse of rating scales: intentional dissimulation, true PTSD and how to differentiate the two
Joseph Zohar